

Are you ready for an exciting career with the Western College of Veterinary Medicine (WCVM) at the University of Saskatchewan (USask)? We are on the lookout for a passionate veterinarian to join our vibrant Equine Field Service team as a locum between December 2024 and March 2025. Situated in the picturesque city of Saskatoon, this role provides an exceptional opportunity to work in our state-of-the-art Veterinary Medical Centre (VMC), a beacon of excellence in animal health care in Western Canada. Dive into a role where you can make a significant impact by providing top-tier equine ambulatory services and by serving as a mentor for the next generation of veterinarians. At the WCVM, you will have the opportunity to advance your professional career and contribute to our dynamic learning environment — all while enjoying the flexibility and support to thrive both professionally and personally. Join us, where your expertise helps to shape the future of veterinary medicine and transform lives.

This position will have a mostly clinical commitment for equine clients on farm and clinical supervision and teaching of veterinary students in the fourth-year equine field service rotation. This individual will have experience in and a passion for equine practice. The successful applicant must be able to communicate effectively, work collegially and collaborate with people of diverse backgrounds.

The Equine Field Service section operates out of the VMC, providing both primary care and specialist services to equine patients in the Saskatoon area. The section carries out over 2,000 ambulatory visits per year and focuses on providing a high level of clinical service and a positive client experience.

The VMC serves Western Canada as an AVMA- and AAHA-accredited hospital and referral centre. The Equine Field Service section operates out of the VMC, providing both primary care and specialist services to equine patients in the Saskatoon area. The service's resources include four fully equipped ambulatory vehicles — each with storage, heating and running water. Available equipment includes digital radiography, ultrasonography, endoscopy and dental power floats.

The WCVM is Western Canada's regional college of veterinary medicine. It is part of a comprehensive academic health sciences group on the university campus. For further information, please visit www.usask.ca/wcvm.

The University of Saskatchewan's main campus is situated on Treaty 6 Territory and the Homeland of the Métis. The University of Saskatchewan is located in Saskatoon, a city with a diverse and thriving economic base, a vibrant arts community and a full range of leisure opportunities. The University has a reputation for excellence in teaching, research and scholarly activities and offers a full range of undergraduate, graduate, and professional programs to a student population of over 24,000.

Qualifications

Applicants must hold a Doctor of Veterinary Medicine degree (or equivalent) and be eligible for general or limited general licensure with the Saskatchewan Veterinary Medical Association. Experience in equine practice and/or advanced clinical training are required. Participation in after hours on-call duty for the Equine Field Service section will be required. Applicants must have a proven commitment to high quality teaching and patient care. Applicants should have demonstrated an ability to succeed in a collaborative clinical and teaching environment. The successful candidate be compliant with the University of Saskatchewan policy for operating university vehicles. Excellent communication skills and teaching experience are required. This position has no research requirement, but collaboration in ongoing research projects will be encouraged. Salary for this position will be commensurate with the successful candidate's education and experience.
